UV Stabilization Non-Woven Fabric for Agriculture

The P-30 anti-UV non-woven fabric for agriculture or UV Stabilization is an ideal overwintering veil for winter protection but also for your young plants. Thicker than P17, it is used above all to protect plants from the cold. The winter cover helps regulate the temperature of your crop during the winter and prevents frost from covering it. To avoid depriving your production of water, the forcing veil absorbs the water and redistributes it to your plants. Your crop needs light to grow well, so the forcing canvas has been designed to let in the sun's rays.
